

After several years of all hours of the day or night, including Sunday and Holiday, calls from telemarketers, the past three months since signing up for Indiana's "no-call list" has been purely delightful. Now the FCC, in their infinite wisdom, has decided that they want to get involved in our private lives again. If you feel that you must do something, why not go one step further than the State of Indiana and block ALL telemarketer calls, including Insurance Companies and the rest that the state left in place. I personally can use the rest and relaxation.
